

August 25, 1941.

Mr. Lem Graves Jr.,
Sports Editor
Journal & Guide,
711 E. Olney Road,
Norfolk, Va.

Dear Mr. Graves:

I am in receipt of your letter of August 21st. I think your prospectus for handling our League problem is very well drawn up, however, it is going to be a very difficult proposition to get the League Members together to a Meeting on that day.

I am writing Posey and asking him what his suggestions are. You can of course count on the Eagles, and I imagine the Grays. If we can get together and offer any suggestions or work out any plans before that day, I will advise you right away.

The Eagles and The Grays are playing a double-header at the Polo Grounds on Sept. 14th. Gottlieb objects very seriously to this game, as he does not want the League teams playing in New York except under his supervision, which is easily to understand. We are, of course, ignoring his protests, but it is almost a sure thing that some bad feeling is going to result. Expect to hear from me soon again.

Very truly yours,

EM:CCJ